Once more the hands of time are fast approaching the inevitable hour when this year's grand fellowship of students will be dispersing into all parts of Canada and beyond. What lies in store we do not know — there we can but encourage one another to "trust and obey." But the memories of the passing schoolyear — yet so vivid and so dear — are ours to keep or to forget. Which shall it be? If the former, then may this small volume assist you in your effort. May you, as you glance periodically through its pages, once more recall the pleasant events, the blessed truths of these nine months and may you again recapture the spirit that pervaded the halls and rooms of the M.B. Bible College. May these memories constantly spur you on to greater effort, more fervent zeal in your laboring in God's vineyard.

And you, dear reader, who did not have the privilege of studying the Word of God with us this year, may this book grant you a fleeting glimpse into student activities and life. There are problems that have to be coped with — yes, but the numerous spiritual benefits compensate for any sacrifice which may have to be made. And so we hope that through the medium of this book you may learn to know and to understand us just a little better. May the bond of fellowship between students and non-student be strengthened as you ponder the contents of these few pages. This book goes forth with our earnest prayers that God may be able to use it to the glorification of His name.

Er-Ich

“WER Theologe werden will, muss die Bibel studieren.” Die hohe Aufgabe des M. B. Bibel College ist nicht, dass seine Studenten in erster Linie schnellstens fuer spezielle Dienste im Weinberge des Herrn vorbereitet werden. Das Hauptgewicht muss auf gesunde biblische Charakterbildung gelegt werden. Um ihres eigenen Lebens willen ist es ueberaus notwendig, dass die Praeparandae zu einer gruendlichen biblischen und gedanklichen Durchbildung kommen. Das Bibelstudium soll nicht nur fuer die speziellen Beduerfnisse und fuer die Ausruestung des Kandidaten fuer die Gegenwart berechnet sein.

Durch ein in die Tiefe dringendes Schriftstudium muessen die grossen Zusammenhaenge des Schriftganzen, das in Christo Jesus wurzelt, in ihren Grundlinien erfasst werden. Dadurch wird das Leben in der Gemeinschaft mit dem Herrn Jesu befruchtet. “Das Wasser das ich ihm geben werde, das wird in ihm ein Brunnen des Wassers werden, das in das ewige Leben quillt.”

So moege jeder Absolvent mit einem neuen wertvollen Inhalt, mit Christus selbst, in's Leben und in seine Berufsarbeit treten!

2 Timotheus 3:10.11.

ANGELEITET von dem Schriftwort, dass ich oben angefuehrt habe, im Blick auf Vergangenheit, Gegenwart und Zukunft unseres College, werde ich veranlasst dem Jahrbuch folgende Zeilen auf seinen Weg durch die Gemeinden mitzugeben.

Wir sind dankbar gegen Gott, dass er unserer Gemeinschaft eine biblische Lehre geschenkt hat. Frei von dem umstrickenden Einfluss der liberalen Theologie, hat sie sich bei uns auf eine wunderbare Weise rein erhalten.

Auch glauben wir, dass die Weise unsrer Vaeter, wie sie sie je und je im praktischen Leben des Einzelnen und der Gemeinden befolgten, gesund und sehr nuechtern war.

Wir anerkennen es, dass man sich stets sichtbar bemuehte, seine Meinung auf Grund des Wortes Gottes zu formen.

Vor allem aber ist es der Glaube unsrer Vaeter, der uns als Vorbild inspiriert und anspornt ihrem guten Beispiel nachzufolgen. Dass Gott unsre Gemeinschaft dann und wann gewuerdigt hat, um seines Namens willen zu leiden, beugt uns tief. Es ist nicht ausgeschlossen, dass auch wir eines Tages vor die Frage werden gestellt werden, ob wir willig sind, unser Zeugnis fuer den Herrn mit Leiden zu besiegen. Im Blick darauf ist es unser Trost, dass Er, der da ist der Erste und der Letzte, uns helfen wird, wie Er das tat mit unseren Vaetern. Das vorliegende Jahrbuch nun, dass ja zum weit groessten Teil von unseren lieben Studenten verfertigt ist, will den Lesern kund tun, dass wir als College uns von Herzen zu dem Gut unsrer Vaeter, das auf uns gekommen ist, bekennen. Dass wir in obigen Stuecken bleiben moechten, ist unser Wunsch und heisses Flehen.

Als Leitung des College schaetzen wir dieses Bemuehen unsrer Studenten und wuenschen ihnen hiermit Gottes reichen Segen fuer ihr ganzes Leben.

Dann aber wenden wir uns hiermit auch an unsere Gemeinden mit einer herzlichen Bitte. Es ist das Jahrbuch ein Mittel, wodurch die Studenten den Gemeinden ihre warmen Gruesse uebermitteln und sich selbst in ihrem Studentenleben denselben vorstellen.

Die Absicht dabei ist, das Band der Liebe zwischen Schule und Gemeinde aufrechtzuerhalten und zu staerken und das ganze Werk des Herrn hier bei uns im College Eurer Fuerbitte warm zu empfehlen.

VALEDICTORY

WHEN a real student leaves a real school, there is always a tug and pull at the heart which the student finds hard to express in words. This poignant feeling issues from ties of friendship that must now be loosed, from bonds of fellowship that will henceforth suffer the separation of time and space.

Some of us are now leaving the College and are experiencing these mixed feelings — feelings of regret in parting, feelings of anticipation for the future. One way to soften our feelings and make our parting pleasant is to speak a word of appreciation to those of you whom we leave behind. We thank you, teachers, first, for every word of encouragement, for every enlightenment and inspiration for a Christian life of devotion and service. We thank our Conference and supporting churches for this institution. Our appreciation goes out to staff members for everything in which they have helped to make our stay at M.B.B.C. more pleasant. And to those who have made our education in these halls possible, to our parents and patrons, our heart goes out in sincerest gratitude. May God reward you richly! Finally, we think of the students who remain behind. We can wish you nothing better than that many of you might find it in God's will to complete your course here at M.B.B.C.

Soon we will have rounded the curve in life's road, a new direction will have been taken by all of us and the familiar sights and sounds of College will be gone from view. Many questions will rise in our hearts. What has College meant for me personally? Has it meant a real experience with God? Have I grown in grace, has Christ been able to leave His divine impress on my character? Have I grown in the knowledge of the Lord so that I can be more effective in His service? Have I gained a wider understanding of others, of their views of myself? Those of us who are leaving know that we have but imperfectly realized what these questions imply. But in farewell we wish to say that the pursuance of "the high calling of God in Christ Jesus" is always a blessed experience in spite of our own shortcomings. For you who remain and for us who leave we wish a continual following after this high goal.

Of the many mottos that challenge, inspire and guide the student at M.B.B.C. one in particular conveys the aspirations of the Student Council. It has not been merely our aspiration, but also our prayer. We find it recorded in JOHN 3:30.

HE MUST INCREASE BUT I MUST DECREASE.

The task of the Council is by no means a small one. Briefly stated, it has the duty of promoting the spiritual welfare of the College. Conscious of this large responsibility, it has been our deep desire to design our entire program of activities in such a way that Christ might be exalted, glorified and increased among us. It is evident that only as Christ finds promotion in our College will our spiritual life be promoted. Therefore, whether in a Christian work program, a foreign missions project, a social evening, a bi-monthly publication, an employment matter, a medical aid issue, or a yearbook,—in all it has been our desire that Christ might experience an increase.

Only as Christ finds an increase through us will we, the Student Council and the Student Organization, be able to look with pride upon our motto: FOR US TO LIVE IS CHRIST. PHIL. 1:21.

The Literary Committee: Henry Konrad, Helen Schellenberg, Marguerite Hiebert, Hugo Jantz (Promoter).

The term "literary" is highly suggestive. It forces ajar the door of thought and reminds of the literature that has been written down through the annals of time. The individual sees naught but a few personally well-known works against a hazy background of countless volumes. As a Literary Committee at the M.B.B.C. we comprise hardly enough of that background to warrant the epithet, "Literary." Despite our insignificance, we work.

In a previous year book this Committee appeared as the staff of the "Olive Leaf." It is now our privilege to aid in the publication of the "Voice," the whole of which is under the able editorship of the faculty, while the Committee retains partial editorial jurisdiction over the "Olive Leaf" department.

The present school year has seen another duty added to the Committee's agenda. We strive now to keep the student body abreast of current affairs. Reports are arranged by the Committee. These are delivered by various students during a special weekly class hour.

Another avenue of activity open to us is the fostering of interest in various religious and secular periodicals which are valuable for the Christian student. Where profitable, we advise that the College library subscribe to other periodicals esteemed desirable.

Despite shortcomings, we maintain that our efforts have been motivated by the desire to see Christ glorified.

"GO YE INTO ALL THE WORLD!"

Foreign Missions Committee: Jake Rogalsky, Mary Martens, Katie Pauls, Norman Fehr (promoter), Mary Loewen, Jake Dyck, Theo van Petegem.

Convinced more than ever of the words in John 9:4b: "The night cometh, when no man can work," the Foreign Missions Committee has put forth an earnest effort to foster an intelligent, active and living interest in, and an appreciation for, missions. We have sought to live up to the aims and goals set by the previous committee, and have also taken an active stand to its suggestions. Posted letters from missionaries, current missionary literature, albums, guest book, pictures and maps have been an asset to our aims. The challenges offered by the missionary prayer groups during their prayer meetings and Friday evening programs and the hearty challenges from visiting missionaries have assisted in practically attaining our goal.

Herewith, we also wish to express our thanks to our fellow students for the co-operation and interest shown in our efforts.

Wilmer Kornelson (Promoter), Frieda Baerg,
Anne Voth, Mr. Falk.

Believing that our present missionary fervor and success will co-relate very closely with our future zeal and prosperity in mission work we as a Home Missions Committee endeavor to provide the entire student body with opportunities for reaching the lost for Christ. With the aid of our city missionary, Mr. Falk, and Child Evangelism director, Mrs. Coppleman, we have our activities channelled into various fields of service.

Hundreds of souls are reached weekly by Good News clubs, personal work, house visitation, tract distribution, singing and preaching. These responsibilities are entrusted to the students and as they are accepted they become accountable for them.

The work is generally characterized by prayer and dependence upon God for His blessing. As laborers we see that the fringe of the undone has barely been touched, this being no discouragement but rather the green signal to proceed.

Has God blessed? Yes, God has rewarded our labors. Souls have been saved, and others drawn nearer to God. We believe eternity alone will reveal what God has done and is going to do with the sown seed. In all, Isaiah 55:11, has taken on a new meaning for us.

RECREATION - A NECESSITY !

Peter Penner (Promoter), George Konrad, Kay Peters, Daisy Martens, Nettie Pauls, Dave Falk, Helmut Janzen.

Through participation in wholesome forms of recreation, interest in our studies is heightened and our strength and spirit refreshed after toil.

God-given humour and wit tempered with morality provide amiable sociability in the school halls and dormitories, on the volleyball court and at socials.

To obtain a concensus of opinions of our students on debatable questions related to our social and sports activities, we prepared and administered an appropriate personality-problem questionnaire. The results were gratifying, but revealing. With our limited facilities—without a gymnasium—the greatest benefit of this effort will occur in the individual student's thinking rather than in practical solutions.

Jake Isaac (Promoter).

"Why a College yearbook?" As a committee laboring on this project we have many a time asked ourselves that question. Would we really gain anything thereby? Was it worth the time we spent at it? And, even more important, would it be a blessing to others and in a small measure further the kingdom of God? Ever and anon we reminded ourselves of our motto: "Whatsoever ye do, do it heartily as unto the Lord." And we believe that even as we have done this work unto the Lord, so He will be able to use it for the extension of His kingdom. That thought has often caused us to pause and take stock, so to speak, of our motives, whether they were pure and acceptable before God. We lay no claim to perfection, hence we crave a tolerant attitude on the part of our readers if and where we have in any way done that which may not be acceptable. We hope that this book may be a blessing to all.

Gashed knee? Influenza? Laryngitis that just won't clear? Migraine headache? Athlete's foot? Mumps? The M.A.A. lends a helping hand for all these minor ailments. Mumps, however, proved to be a major issue for a selected few which threatened to, but by God's grace did not, spread among the entire student body. The fine co-operating spirit and cheerful hand given by the nurses to the M.A.A. was greatly appreciated.

Several major issues in hospital and doctor bills were taken care of by the Association this year. We are very grateful to our heavenly Father for having spared our college family from any serious illness or accidents this year.

Pray On!

"Men ought always to pray, and not to faint."
Luke 18:1

Pray on, when sorrows come upon you,
And your faith is sorely tried;
Pray on, when courage nearly fails you,
And His help you seem denied.

Pray on, when 'neath life's heavy burdens
You almost give up in despair,
Thinking no one ever carried
Burdens just like you must bear.

Pray on, when rough and dark your pathway,
And you cannot see the light;
When every spark of hope has vanished,
And brightest day has turned to night.

Pray on, when you are disappointed,
And have cause to make complaint;
Remember it was Christ Who told us,
"Men ought always pray, not faint."

Pray on, when Satan's hosts assail you,
And clouds of doubt obscure the sky;
Pray on, when just a word of prayer
May be the hardest thing to do.

Pray on, for God will surely answer
Every one who makes request;
Only pray in faith, believing
That what He gives, for you is best.

And so amid life's toil and struggles,
God, Who gave to us His Son,
Whispers, when we're weak and weary,
"Faint not, my child, pray on, pray on."

PAULINE EPISTLES

THE HOLY BIBLE

(Paul)

"Gott aber sei Dank, der uns den Sieg gegeben hat durch unsern Herrn Jesus Christus" (I Kor. 15:59). Im Blick auf die voellige Erloesung, die uns durch Jesus Christus zuteil geworden ist, duerfen wir mit Paulus in dieses Sieges—and Triumpf—Lied enstimmen, obwohl wir heute noch im Kampfe stehen. Wie wir kaempfen sollen, darueber gibt uns Gottes Wort Aufschluss. Fuer mich persoenlich ist das Studieren des Wortes Gottes das allerschoenste und segensreichste. Kommen wir mit aufrichtig suchendem und demuetigem Herzen zum Herrn, so offenbart er sich uns. Von Tag zu Tag zeigt er uns immer deutlicher, wer wir eigentlich sind und welchem Ziele wir zustreben sollen. Dann steigt aus dem tiefsten Innersten das Gebet empor: Herr, mache mich zu einem brauchbaren Werkzeuge in deinem Weinberge!

Helene Dueck

This is a good course for anyone who desires to apply himself in the acquisition of a tool which is very helpful in studying the New Testament. Though it is but an introduction to a thorough study of the language, it is, nevertheless, a foundation upon which we can build in due time.

Pete Warkentin

HISTORICAL BOOKS OF

THE BIBLE

THE HOLY BIBLE

(Various writers)

Old Testament History is fast acquiring a new significance. Truly, it serves as a solid bridge connecting the marvellous truths between the two eternities. Furthermore, it has become incandescent due to the wondrous archaeological studies in Bible lands. Almost every period of that old Book has been flooded with new light out of the ruins of the past. This halo has given added charm to many a character and event which formerly were prosaic and tame. Whole eras of Israel's history throb with the pulsations of contemporary world movements and international activities.

Our aim in this study is not merely to know the narratives of the Scriptures but to realize their spiritual application, to feel their eternal import and to experience them ourselves.

Helen Schellenberg

The bell rings! Mrs. Horch, our beloved English teacher, smilingly enters the classroom. First, she looks over the row of students; then begins as usual: "Be ready to write your spelling!" Oh, how we enjoy this hour of instruction!

Our English class consists of Europeans and immigrants, who willingly co-operate in the work.

To your question, "What do you study in this class?" We answer, "Grammar, spelling, reading, writing, literature, etc. We also do some translating."

We realize that this study is laying the foundation for our English language. It will help us to serve the Lord better in the future.

HOMILETICS

"On The Preparation Of Sermons"
by
J. A. Broadus

"Preach the Word!" is the scriptural imperative; "I am not eloquent," the Christian's excuse. The study of Homiletics serves to emphasize the above command, to aid in the realization of the presence or absence of natural speaking talents and to teach one to overcome inhibitions due to preconceived ideas of incapability. This course offers the principles of preaching and provides opportunity for expression as a preparation for future application. It advocates the "God of Love" as the Author and Inspirer of successful preaching of the gospel of Jesus Christ.

George Konrad

Mention "philosophy" and you evoke the cry, "anathema," from many sincere Christians, and rightly so. What appalling havoc the philosophies of many prominent thinkers have wrought! To the Christian student, however, the literal connotation of the term "philosophy" is a truly lovely one. It simply signifies "love of wisdom," or, again, "search for true wisdom." Wisdom, on the other hand, provides the ability to do the right thing in the right way at the right time. This ability is ours only when our philosophy is a functional, Bible-centered one. Man's unaided attempt to comprehend Ultimate Reality and our relation to it have proved futile, yea, devastating. With thankful hearts we turn from man's vain philosophies to the blessed Word of God, to love it as the only infallible source of Wisdom.

SYSTEMATIC THEOLOGY
"Systematic Theology"
by
A. H. Strong

In a study of the various courses offered at our College a certain need arises—a need which demands our attention with increasing persistence. In pursuing our studies we have had opportunity to acquire a wealth of Christian truths and principles. These truths, however, lack a unity and continuity so necessary if they are to be of practical value in our Christian life. We ask ourselves: how can we systematize this knowledge to become part of a vital and organic system of Scriptural truths from which we can derive the greatest benefit? Let those who are confronted with this problem join us in a study of "Systematic Theology."

Frank Froese

Any student interested in participating along the lines of music should have a practical and theoretical knowledge of its rudiments. The course in Notation Theory is designed to provide just that.

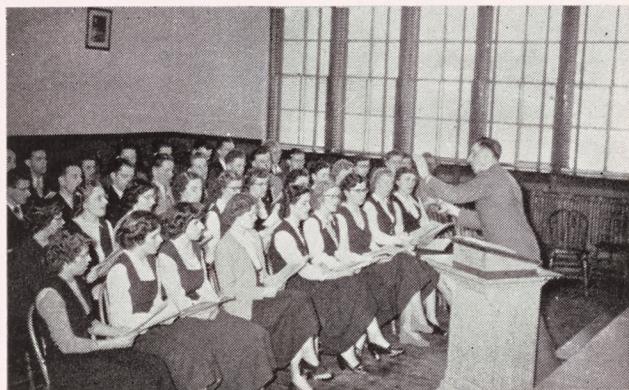

Notes, rests, scales, time, intervals, chords, transposition, terms, abbreviations and ornaments are the first steps leading to more advanced levels. Add to these some sight-singing for color and you may be assured of interesting and valuable periods.

Recht so! Ganz verenglischt sind wir denn doch noch nicht! In Israel waren es siebentausend, die sich nicht vor Baal gebeugt hatten. Hier sind es gegenwärtig etwa vierzehn, welche die Muttersprache studieren, sei es aus Liebe zur Sprache oder aus sonstigen Gründen. Außerdem hat schon manch einer den Kursus in Deutsch beendigt. Man muss staunen, wie interessant sogar die deutsche Sprache sein kann, wenn Lehrer Regehr unterrichtet. Sicherlich gibt es auch bange Zeiten, besonders wenn man einen Vortrag geben muss. Da erlebt man Angst und Zittern, bis man seine Bürde endlich los wird. Aber alles dient zum Besten, so auch das Studium der deutschen Sprache.

Geschliffene Steine

Sieh' die glatten Kieselsteine
Liegen in dem weissen Sand!
Frage sie, wie oft die Welle
Sie geworfen an den Strand
Eh' an Klippen und an Riffen
Ihre Ecken abgeschliffen.

Willst, O Herz, Du's nicht begreifen
Wie dein Herr und Meister sucht
Deine Ecken abzuschleifen?
Sag' mir, sieht Er denn auch Frucht?
Gibt es nicht noch schroffe Ecken,
Die Du toericht suchst zu decken?

Nein, Du kannst sie nicht verdecken.
Abgeschliffen muessen sein
All die scharfen schiefen Ecken;
Und der Meister kann's allein.
Sturm und Wellen wird Er brauchen,
Alles kann zum Schleifen taugen.

Lass Dich werfen, lass Dich schuetteln.
Lass dem Meister freie Hand;
Lass das Innerste durchruetteln,
Halt nur ja nicht stoerrig stand;
Denk Dich in des Meisters Haenden,
Lass Dich ruhig drehn und wenden.

Ob sie hoch, die Pruefungswellen,
Und Du liegst am harten Strand,
Ob die Wogen grausig schwellen,
Endlich findst Du dennoch Land.
Wer hat nicht nach Pruefungsstunden
Doppelt suess die Ruh gefunden?

Doch die Ruhe eines Mueden
Ist der wahre Friede nicht;
Friede wird uns erst bescheiden
Wenn das Herz nicht widerspricht;
Wenn wir still dem Schleifer halten
Und den Meister lassen walten.

Doch Er braucht nicht nur die Wellen
Und den scharfen, harten Strand,
Braucht zum Schleifen auch Gesellen;
Menschen sind in Seiner Hand
Wohl noch oefter als die Wogen
Schleifer, die fuer uns erzogen.

Schleif, mein Meister, schleif die Ecken
Meines schroffen Wesens ab.
Lass Dich nicht zuruecke schrecken
Vor dem dunkeln Wellengrab.
Und willst Du die Menschen brauchen
Lass sie mir zum Schleifstein taugen.

Gib mir Gnade, stets zu blicken
Auf des Meisters liebe Hand
Mich vor Menschen willig buecken
Bis ich endlich an dem Strand
Darf als runder Kiesel ruhn;
O, wie wohl, wie gut wird's tun!
